

The Commanding Officer
takes great pleasure in recognizing

LT Jori S. Brajer, MSC, USNR
as the

2001 DOOLING AWARD RECIPIENT FOR INFORMATION MANAGER OF THE YEAR

Through your significant accomplishments, outstanding leadership and highly professional competence, you have been selected to receive the prestigious Dooling Award. As the Management Information Systems Officer, U.S. Naval Hospital, Keflavik, you have performed superbly in transitioning the hospital into the 21st Century. Your global perspective and unparalleled expertise has created a Management Information Systems Department that is well positioned to take advantage of future opportunities in Military Medicine.

Your numerous individual accomplishments have been substantial and have had a positive impact on your Command and Navy Medicine. These accomplishments include, but are not limited to: being one of the first four commands within Claimancy 18 to complete full certification of the local area network; achieving a zero percent infection rate during the multiple virus attacks launched over the past year; researching and acquiring a replacement uninterruptible power protection system for the hospital computer room following the failure of the previous system; and upgrading and expanding the hospital telephone switch. Additionally, you distinguished yourself by working with Naval Medical Information Management Center to acquire Teleradiology services for your Command. This ensured the availability of continued critical radiology services to a base population of over 4,000 during severe shortages of Navy radiologists. You also acquired and installed telemedicine equipment to support the development of a dedicated telemedicine consultation room, allowing for increased patient privacy and reduced scheduling conflicts.

On behalf of your fellow Information Management professionals of Navy Medicine, I congratulate you on your outstanding achievements in the pursuit of excellence, and congratulate you for a job “WELL DONE!”
