

The Commanding Officer
takes great pleasure in recognizing

HMC (SW) Jovito O. Gonzales, USN
as the

2001 DOOLING AWARD RECIPIENT FOR INFORMATION MANAGEMENT PROFESSIONAL OF THE YEAR

Through your significant accomplishments, outstanding leadership and highly professional competence, you have been selected to receive the prestigious Dooling Award. As the Head, Network Security and Infrastructure Department, U. S. Naval Hospital, Rota, Spain you have performed superbly in the performance of your duties. Your global perspective and unparalleled expertise have helped position the Information Systems Directorate to take advantage of future opportunities in Military Medicine.

Your numerous individual accomplishments have been substantial and have had a positive impact on your Command and Navy Medicine. These accomplishments include, but are not limited to: spearheading a $350,000 upgrade of NH Rota's network giving the command a switched, fiber-backbone, gigabit Ethernet Local Area Network (LAN); identifying the need and implementing a "firewall" dramatically increasing security posture; qualifying as Local Registration Authority and pro-actively registering users to receive Public Key Infrastructure certificates; implementing multiple layers of anti-virus protection by deploying an e-mail anti-virus gateway, upgrading the Exchange Anti-Virus software, and initiating centrally managed Anti-Virus software to the desktop; and qualifying as the Command Information Systems Security Manager. Additionally, you distinguished yourself by consistently displaying an unsurpassed level of professionalism and dedication through development of several customer service initiatives thereby building trust and unparalleled rapport with your customers.

On behalf of your fellow Information Management professionals of Navy Medicine, I congratulate you on your outstanding achievements in the pursuit of excellence, and congratulate you for a job "WELL DONE!"

N. D. YAMODIS
